

Deep Dive: Child Care Assistance Policy

Harriet Dichter consults for BUILD on its system work as well as for other national, state, and local organizations. She founded and led the Pennsylvania Office of Child Development and Early Learning, served as Secretary for the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services (then Public Welfare). She has held other leadership roles in the public, non-profit and foundation sectors. She is a graduate of Yale University (B.A., summa cum laude) and the University of Pennsylvania Law School (J.D. cum laude).

Christine Johnson-Staub is the Interim Director and a Senior Policy Analyst on CLASP's child care and early education team. She has deep expertise in the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG), state child care subsidy policies and programs, and other areas of early childhood policy. Christine leads CLASP's state technical assistance as well as its work on financing and linking systems. Prior to her work at CLASP she worked extensively on early childhood policies and programs in legislative settings, with direct service agencies, and as a consultant with public agencies and community-based organizations. Christine earned a master's degree in public policy from The George Washington University, and a bachelor's degree from the University of California, Santa Cruz.

Anna Carter is currently the Director at the North Carolina Division of Child Development and Early Education (NCDCEE). Anna began her career in early childhood in 1993 at NCDCEE in various roles including responsibilities to coordinate the work of the Division in conjunction with the Director as well as collaborating with State and local partners regarding activities, initiatives and ongoing work to support the early care and education field. Anna has worked extensively in North Carolina on statewide initiatives such as the initial design and subsequent revisions of the 5 Star Rated License system, the implementation of NC Pre-K when it was transferred to NCDCEE from the state Department of Public Instruction, and the development of the application that was submitted for the Race to the Top Early Learning Challenge grant. A. In 2013 Anna left the Division and accepted the role of President at Child Care Services Association (CCSA) in Chapel Hill. This agency provides free referral services to families seeking child care, technical assistance to child care businesses, and educational scholarships and salary supplements to child care professionals through the T.E.A.C.H. Early Childhood® and Child Care WAGES® Projects. Anna left CCSA in June 2017 to return to NCDCEE as the Director. Anna received her Master's in Social Work from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill and her Bachelor's degree from Occidental College in Los Angeles.